Tolling arrangements for Anzac Day

23 March 2009

Transurban, the owner of Hills M2, will waive the M2 toll for veterans and current Defence Force personnel traveling to and from ceremonies on Anzac Day.

Head of Hills M2, Craig Greene, said waiving M2 tolls was a simple way to show appreciation for the bravery and the sacrifices members of the armed services have made, and still make, for Australia.

The toll waiver period will commence at 12am on Saturday April 25 and will end at midnight the same day.

“If you’re entitled to have your M2 toll waived, then make sure you drive into a lane which is staffed by a toll booth attendant ,” Mr Greene said.

“Simply show the attendant your service medals and they will exempt you from the toll. Alternatively, if at least one passenger in the vehicle is wearing a military uniform, the attendant will waive the toll for that vehicle.”

Motorists who have an electronic Tag and are entitled to the toll waiver must also use the cash lanes to receive their exemption.
